Goschen's Peroration On the Alternative of Peace or War-Marital Croubles of the House of Hesse-London Warship Syndicate-British Gossip.

Lendon, March 12 - (Copyrighted, 1898, ture of Queen Victoria for the south of France has had an effect upon the political and commercial vorid, as it is reasonably assumed that she would not leave the country unless the horizon was clearer, which is commonly suppased to be the case. Cluh gossip has it that when her majority saw the french ambassador, Baron de Courcel, at Windaur, on Monday last, she expressed the horse that nothing would interfere with her visit to the Riviera, to which the ambassador is said to have replied; "It would be a misfortune for France, madame."

At Fortsmouth the queen was seen to be looking well, though extra precautions were taken to secure her from disturbance. The royal yacht on which he sites sizet was guarded by a chain of picket hours. In addition, the royal train was ordered to run at a speed of only 20 miles an hour.

The recovery of the Marquis of Salishury from his recent filness is very slow, indeed, it is only allowed to read the most important papers; his weakness is excessive, and no date has been fixed for his going abround, at though Lady Salisbury goes to the Hiviern next week.

"If peace shall again reign in our centers of industry, and the maritime instincts of the nation which calls itself the mistress of the sens reasserts itself the mistress of the sens reasserts itself by an increase in its merchant seamen, then the nation may look forward with confidence that if there is peace it will be peace with homor; but if war, it must be war crowned by victory," provoked an animated gossip in the lobby; but it was agreed that his remarks have not specifically affected the present international situation, and his allusion to the mailed fist": We prefer to see the home-coming of our ships, rather than their sending off," was received with much laughter and cheers.

WARSHIP SYNDICATE. WARSHIP SYNDICATE.

The sentiment favoring war with somebody, which prevails with the "man in the street," has attracted the attention of the stock exchange speculators, and the finadford Observer reports the formation of a syndicate to build and speculate in warships. At present the members of the syndicate will confine their operations to cruite. present the members of the syndicate will confine their operations to cruitaers, gunboats and torpede boats. The sum of £500,000 (£2,500,000) has already been subscribed, and an order has been placed on the Thames for a cruiser. The enterprise really amounts to the intervention of the middlemen between the foreign powers and British ship-builders.

The San Jose Scale.

Washington, March 12—Secretary
Wilson of the agricultural department expresses his satisfaction at the main ner in which the German regulations concerning the importation of American fresh fruit are being carried out. Germany appeared to be doing what was reasonable in the matter. The inspection necessarily causes some delay to shippers, but the consular officers of this country are doing all they can to facilitate entry.
